

MADE FOR EACH OTHER: IN REEL AND REAL..

Born to the most famous family of Bollywood – the Kapoor Khandaan – Rishi Kapoor's iconic stardom never depended on his illustrious lineage but in the way he has been constantly reinventing himself. From the coy 'lover-boy' persona in Bobby to the ninety-year old grandfather-Amarjeet in Kapoor & Sons – the journey was never a fantasy cakewalk. Rather it stands testimony to most resolute hard work and self-discipline.

Neetu Singh (also known by her marriage name Neetu Kapoor) has been as much a powerhouse – and a rare combination of pristine beauty and incredible acting prowess. As much as on-screen all the more, off-screen – she is the muse who has inspired Rishi Kapoor's life and made him what he is! As they say – "jodis are made in heaven" – and though we don't really prefer to believe in heaven, we cannot help but agree that Neetu and Rishi Kapoor's pairing is indeed divine!

Once upon a time, a boy and a girl met on a film set, together delivered some of the biggest hits of their time with the likes of Khel Khel Mein, Rafoo Chakkar, Khabhi Khabhi, Amar Akbar Antony, Pati Patni Aur Woh and Duniya Meri Jeb Mein, featuring in some of the most loved and ever popular timeless chart busters like – Ek Mein Aur Ek Tu, Tere Chere Se Nazar Nehi Hathti, Khullam Khulla Pyar, Hum Ne Tum Ko Dekha, Tum Ko Mere Dil Ne, Ye Silsila Pyar Se Chala – their on screen chemistry was so spontaneous, so pulsating – and even after the credits rolled, they have continued to live love and laugh happily ever after, regaling audiences meanwhile with the ever expanding scale and scope of their on screen synergy!

To decode the super success of the evergreen Jodi in Do Doni Char – when they came back together on screen as reel life couple after so many years – the warmth, trust, respect for each other and the love that grew with time, the inseparable bonding in this relationship quintessentially reflected in the movie.

Today we feel indeed honoured to raise a toast to this timeless couple of Bollywood and celebrate their shared glory, shared love and shared life.
